St. Ann Parish Mission Statement

We are called by a loving God to make St. Ann of Lansing a Catholic community of faith.
We are a family of diverse people with various ministries:
healing the body and spirit, teaching of God and His love, united in sacraments and prayer, reaching out to the extended community.
With God's revelation of Himself in Scripture as our guide, we strive to grow in His Spirit and to fulfill the promise of Christ's Kingdom.

From the Pastor's Pen

SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER:
NO GREATER LOVE (John 15:9-17)

Happy Mother's Day! Happy Mother's Day to all mothers and to those who fill in as mothers in helping children to become mature adults. I'll start with a reflection on mothers before my thoughts on today's readings.

Today's Gospel on love is a perfect Gospel for Mother's Day. Surely most of us first learned about love from our parents. Love, as we all know, is not just warm fuzzy feelings; it is dedication and commitment; it is care; it is unselfishness and thoughtfulness; it is patience and kindness; it is forgiveness. Warm fuzzy feelings come and go, and that's why Jesus said love is a commandment. We don't always feel like being loving — whether toward God or toward one another. Thus, we spend time in prayer at times when we don't feel like praying. Prayer is a way we show our faith and our love for God.

We do a favor for someone who needs our help simply because they need our help and it's the loving thing to do. Jesus said to love our neighbor as ourselves, so love presupposes we love ourselves — not in a selfish way but in a healthy way. If we don't love ourselves, how are we going to love our neighbor? In today's Gospel, however, Jesus says. "love one another as I love you." We can't love like Him, in such an unselfish way, without His help, which we all need every day. Jesus will give us that help if we ask.

In John's Gospel (John 13:31-38), Jesus gives us the commandment of love: "…love one another as I have loved you…" In those verses, mothers are advocates. And they stand by not silently, but with words of direction and wisdom repeated over and over again to their children as they guide them in life.

Jesus says, "I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another." This is the summary of the Christian message: to love as Jesus loves us. That word "as" pops up several times in Jesus' teaching: "Love one another as I have loved you . . . forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us . . . be compassionate as your Heavenly Father is compassionate." This is the standard by which our moral lives are to be measured.

It is worthwhile to remember, however, that love is not instinctive, not inborn. It is a learned response! To make an analogy in the animal world, catching and eating prey is not automatic. The cubs have to learn that skill. And it is completely appropriate, on this day in particular, to ask from whom do they learn how to catch and eat prey? Who protects the baby animals? Who moves them from den to den? Who defends them to the point of death? And who teaches them survival skills?

The answer to those questions above is, of course, their mothers. Human mothers, it should be mentioned on this Mother's Day, do the same. They teach us survival skills! But more than that, they teach love! And they teach it in the only effective way one teaches anything: by doing loving things for their children and for other people. Mothers following Jesus' command, in their own way, become the measurement on how we are to love! As Jesus said, "Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another," so every mother silently says the same. Watch me, and you will learn how to love. Let me move you from selfishness to sharing and concern for others. Watch me, and I will show you how to do it. In this way, every mother furthers the Gospel. Someone once said, "A mother's patience is like a tube of toothpaste . . . it is never quite all gone."

So whose day is this day? This day is for all the mothers who have sat up all night with sick toddlers, seated beside them and saying with confidence, "It's okay honey. Mommy's here." This is the day for all the mothers of Yemen, Iraq, Syria, Afghanistan, Sudan, and many other war-torn nations who fled in the night and can't find their children. This is the day for the mothers who gave birth to babies they'll never see. It's also for those mothers who took those babies and gave them homes. It is for the mothers who bite their lips sometimes until they bleed when their 15-year-olds dye their hair green or purple! This is the day for the mothers whose children have gone astray, who can't find the words to reach them. This is the day for young mothers stumbling through diaper changes and sleep deprivation. This is also for the mature mothers who have learned to let go. It's the day for single mothers and married mothers. Mothers with money and mothers without money. This day is for all of you mothers who SHOWED and continue to SOW the seed of love! May God bless all of you mothers today and on!

If you study the life and words and parables and sermons and actions of Jesus, you will find an eternity's worth of things you should do. But there was precisely just one thing which was so vital that Jesus actually went so far as to phrase it as a command, and that was to love each other. We are to love one another, cherish one another, even lay down our lives for one another if need be, and it is all an extension of being a branch on Jesus, the true vine. Apparently, Jesus knew that if we could do just this one commandment, everything else would follow. If you bring a child to an ice cream parlor, you won't need to start issuing rules which insist that the child order a cone, eat it, enjoy it, find it delicious, and so just generally have fun! Once the child gets to the parlor, the rest follows. So also with love: if we can't do this, nothing else will work either. If we can, the rest follows.

Let us pray in a special way for all our mothers on this great day when we hear the command of the Lord which all the mothers have done well: Lord God, we pray for all the mothers. Those here present at home, continue to give them your Spirit of Love, so that they may continue your love in their offspring. For those you have called home Lord, give them eternal life as a gift for the love they shared.

We ask all this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Presence of the Holy Spirit

We have a unique episode in the Acts of the Apostles today. A whole roomful of people are baptized with the Holy Spirit before they are baptized with water! The verb used—"the Holy Spirit 'fell' on them" (Acts 10:44)—is characteristic of the way the Spirit works throughout the book of Acts: powerful and surprising. Though this "baptism" is not the normative way the New Testament describes baptism, it is still a good reminder today that the Holy Spirit is not controlled by whether or not we pour water, but rather that our sacramental signs reveal the presence of the Spirit at work among us. And we have a double reinforcement of how this work is accomplished from a Letter and a Gospel bearing John's name. It is love, self-sacrificing and self-giving love, that manifests the Spirit of Jesus in our midst. It is love that is the greatest of commandments. The Spirit is manifested equally through those who live in that love.

Dear Parishioners and Families,

Happy Mother's Day to all mothers and mother-figures who raise, nurture, uplift, champion, and prepare our children to lead strong, productive, independent lives of Christian leadership and service to fellow beings. We love and honor you today and always, along with those mothers who have gone before us!

This past week we showed our great appreciation for another group of wonderful people: teachers! Every day, our students shared their love through letters and other small gestures. We are so grateful for the SAS crew that has persevered through this very strange year and in the face of the door that will soon close permanently on the wonderful institution that is St. Ann School. We pray that exciting windows will soon be opening for all of our faculty and staff.

Would your family like to contribute something to our 2020-21 Time Capsule? We will include a copy of The Green and Gold Times and anything else that evokes the days we are living in now. If you have something small to contribute—a photo, some written words, a toy or trinket, etc.—please send it in to your teacher or the school office clearly marked "Time Capsule." We will accept items until June 1.

Thank you to those who reached out with class photos for SAS alum Louis Gray's Boy Scout Eagle Project. He is in the process of organizing and readying the 70 years of St. Ann class photos for relocating to the Narthex. The revised missing photos list: 1991, 2005-2011, 2013, 2017, and 2019. If you can help with any of those, we would love to make copies. Please contact Jennifer Gray at jengray72@yahoo.com.

We ask your continued prayers for our families, faculty, and staff, as they look for new schools and determine where this uncertain road may lead them. St. Ann, pray for us!

baby bottle project

May 8-9 - June 19-20

St. Ann's will participate in the Baby Bottle Project to benefit the Women's Centers of Greater Chicagoland, a NPO that assists mothers and families experiencing crisis pregnancies. Each year, the Women's Center sees over 5,000 expectant mothers in their three locations, one of which is located at Our Lady of Knock in Calumet City.

Please take a Baby Bottle home with you from the Narthex next weekend, fill it with your spare change, and return it June 19-20. Donations by check should be made payable to The Women's Center. You may also visit GoTWC.org or call 773-794-1313 to donate.

This is a simple but crucial fundraising effort for The Women's Centers. Please note that the baby bottles cost nearly $1 per bottle and are recycled afterwards, so please be sure to return them at the end of the project. Thank you for helping to defend life, and remember to keep all pro-life undertakings in your prayers.

CATHOLIC CORNER

ALL OUR MOTHERS

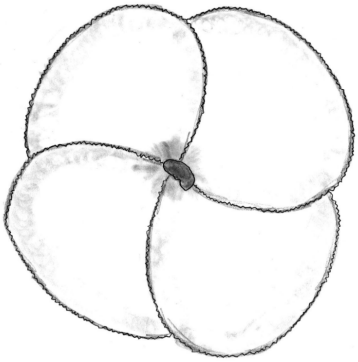
Our country celebrates Mother's Day today. A particular flower is associated with Mother's Day—the carnation.

Anna Jarvis is the woman who had the idea for a day to honor mothers. Anna's mother died in 1905 after spending her life working to improve the lives of other people. Anna loved and admired her mother, so after her mother died, Anna worked to establish a day in her honor to honor all mothers. In May of 1907, Anna gave a talk at her church in Grafton, West Virginia, and handed out five hundred carnations to the mothers in attendance. The next year that church held a special Mother's Day service. By 1909, forty-six states held special services to honor mothers. In 1914 President Woodrow Wilson officially designated the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. For 104 years people in the United States have continued to honor mothers on that day.

Anna Jarvis never wanted this day to be one for expensive presents, flowers, or candy. She wanted it to remain simple—a day to remember our mothers and stepmothers, living or dead, with our good thoughts and prayers. Anna declared the carnation the official flower of the day and the singular, "Mother's Day," as the correct spelling. She wanted attention to be paid to each mother individually.

How appropriate to celebrate Mother's Day during the Easter season! The day is a chance to honor our mothers and other women who are like mothers to us. We should also remember Mary, our heavenly mother. A mother's love reminds us of God's love, both of which give us life and help us grow.

Make some paper carnations like this one for your mother, stepmother, or other mother figure. Fill the petals with some words of your own and share them on this special day with the women you love and who love you.



Jesus wants us to love one another.
Hearts are a symbol of love. Look at the hearts below.
Cross out the one heart in each group that is different.
At the very bottom write the names of people you love onto the lines.
Make sure you tell them "I love you" soon.
