TWENTY-FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME: Peter's Profession of Faith

Today's Gospel passage from Mark 8:27-35 invites us to reflect deeply on our understanding of Jesus' identity and our call to follow Him. In this pivotal moment in the Gospel, Jesus poses a critical question to His disciples: "Who do people say that I am?" The responses vary—some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, or one of the prophets. Yet when He directs the question more personally to His disciples, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter boldly declares, "You are the Messiah."

Ah, what a profound moment this is! Peter's recognition of Jesus as the Messiah signifies a turning point not only in his own faith journey but also in the ministry of Jesus. The term "Messiah" carries immense weight, implying a Savior, a King, the one who would deliver Israel. And yet, immediately after this confession, Jesus begins to teach His disciples about the suffering that lies ahead, foretelling His passion and death.

It is at this point that Peter's understanding falters. He rebukes Jesus for suggesting a path of suffering, unable to reconcile the image of an all-powerful Messiah with that of a suffering servant. This moment speaks volumes about our human tendencies: we often have difficulty accepting the necessity of suffering and sacrifice in our lives. The ways of God frequently contrast with our expectations and desires.

Jesus, however, firmly corrects Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! For you are setting your mind not on divine things but on human things." This strong rebuke challenges us today, as it calls us to examine where we might be setting our minds on human concepts of success, power, and comfort—rather than on the radical love and service of Jesus.

As we meditate on this passage, we must ask ourselves: who do we say Jesus is in our own lives? Is He merely a historical figure, a moral teacher, or do we recognize Him as our Savior and Lord, the One who calls us to a deeper commitment? To acknowledge Jesus as the Messiah is to embrace the call to discipleship, a call that entails taking up our cross and following Him.

Jesus emphasizes this in verse 34, where He says, "If anyone wants to become My follower, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow Me." The call to deny ourselves is not a call to neglect our needs or desires but an invitation to prioritize our faith, surrender our inclination toward self-centeredness, and embrace the life of service.

Taking up our cross is not merely about enduring hardships; it is about actively participating in the mission of Christ, which often involves bearing witness to love and justice in a broken world. It invites us to confront the injustices we witness, offer help to those in need, and stand in solidarity with the marginalized.

In these reflections, we see that the path of discipleship is not easy, but it is profoundly rewarding. Jesus assures us that in losing our lives for His sake and the Gospel, we will find true life. This paradox of the Kingdom of God challenges the ways of the world, inviting us to a deeper trust in God's plan.

As we continue through this season of Ordinary Time, let us open our hearts to truly understand the identity of Jesus and His call for each of us. Let us make Peter's answer our own answer. May we strive to be disciples who not only profess faith in Christ but also live out that faith in our actions, embracing the cross of our daily lives, and finding hope in the promise of resurrection.

Pastoral Prayer: Gracious God, who is the Beginning and the End of all we are and ever hope to be, we give You thanks for the words of Holy Scripture, that here we might know You and learn to do Your will. We thank You for the witness of prophets of old, that we might learn Your thoughts through them. We ask that You inspire us to use this Good Book in our daily lives. Let it occupy a special place in our homes. Lead us to open it and to open our hearts as well, that the power found in its pages might become our power, and its flame our flame, for the glory of Your holy name. Amen

Fr. Mark Kalema, Pastor

Today's Readings

First Reading: I gave my back to those who beat me, my cheeks to those who plucked my beard; my face I did not shield from buffets and spitting. (Is 50:6)

Psalms: I will walk before the Lord, in the land of the living. (Ps 116)

Second Reading: So also faith of itself, if it does not have works, is dead. (Jas 2:17)

Gospel: "But who do you say that I am?" Peter said to him in reply, "You are the Christ." (Mk 8:29)

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD. The English translation of Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved. ©LPi

Reflect & Respond to Scripture

First Reading: Isaiah stands firm in his faith as he suffered in following God's call. Can you think of a time when you supported someone in their faith?

Second Reading: James believed that good works are the fruit of faith. Where is there a need for good works from you this week among family or friends?

Gospel: Jesus reveals to his disciples that as the Messiah, he is destined to suffer greatly and die, but on the third day, rise from the dead. This was difficult for Peter to accept. How do you stay open to ideas you resist?

Did you notice the nice even temperatures in church this summer? As the seasons change and the weather grows colder, you will undoubtedly be able to tell when it stays nice and toasty in there since the new furnace has been installed! The former school building systems work is still in progress, but should be completed very soon, and we could not have accomplished any of this without YOU, our faithful parishioners. We would like to thank everyone once again for all of the support you provided our fundraising efforts for the new furnace this past year. We even managed to have a good time along the way with our weekly football pools and the social events that marked each drawing! So what's next? Stay tuned for more!

A PRAYER FOR CATECHISTS

Loving Father, we pray today for our catechists. We thank you for their gift of ministry in your Church.

Grant them your wisdom that they may grow in the understanding and teaching of your Word. Grant them also your love that they may be fruitful heralds of your Word and lead others to love you.

Pour forth your Holy Spirit upon them to grant them wisdom about what is important; knowledge of the truths of faith; understanding of their meaning; right judgement about how to apply them in life; courage to persevere even in the face of adversity; reverence before all that is sacred and holy; and that loving zeal which leads others to a transforming encounter with your Son.

We pray this through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Jesus was the king, the Messiah that God's people had been waiting for. In today's Gospel reading, the disciples were confused. If Jesus was the king, why was he saying he would die soon? Jesus' friends did not understand yet that by dying on the cross, Jesus would save them from their sins.
