Are you looking for ways to experience God? Members of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul invite you to share in their ministry of experiencing God by serving people living in poverty. We see Christ in our friends in need and, when we see Christ, we experience God. Please contact us at 708-745-4760 if you are interested in becoming a Vincentian.

TWENTY-SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

This week's readings encourage us to be good stewards of all that God has given us and to rejoice in the good stewardship of others. In our first reading (Nm 11:25-29), a young man informs Moses that Eldad and Medad were prophesying in the camp. Joshua, who is Moses' aide, encourages Moses to stop these men. Moses responds, "Are you jealous for my sake? Would that all the people of the Lord were prophets! Would that the Lord might bestow His spirit on them all!" Essentially, Moses is telling his men to stop being jealous that others too have the gift of prophecy bestowed on them from the Lord. A similar situation occurs in our Gospel (Mk 9:38-43, 45, 47-48) as John tells Jesus about someone driving out demons in His name. John explains that he tried to prevent him since this man doesn't follow them. Jesus responds by saying, "Do not prevent him. There is no one who performs a mighty deed in My name who can at the same time speak ill of Me. For whoever is not against us is for us." Eldad, Medad, and the man driving out demons were all doing the work of God. They had been entrusted with a gift and used it to glorify the Lord. Joshua and John should have responded in joy and appreciation for another's gifts and talents.

If we apply this scenario to our modern-day lives, we might find it extremely relatable. We oftentimes look at another's strengths as our weaknesses, whether it be in parish life, in the workforce, or even in our own families. We are left with a bitter heart and a negative attitude when we become jealous of another. And when we view others in this light, we not only diminish their good works but also overlook the gifts God has given to them and us. Jesus is calling us to cut out those sinful thoughts and attitudes from our lives. The next time we witness someone being a good steward of God's gifts, rejoice. And continue to examine how you are using your gifts and talents to ensure you are being a good steward of what God has entrusted to you.

We do not want to end up like the rich in our second reading from St. James (Jas 5:1-6). "Come now, you rich, weep and wail over your impending miseries... You have lived on earth in luxury and pleasure; you have fattened your hearts for the day of slaughter." The rich in this reading stored up their riches to the point where they withheld wages from their workers! They clenched tightly to the pleasures and luxuries that the world offers and put it in front of both God and their neighbor. They misused the gifts God bestowed on them.

We must keep this in perspective as we journey on our path as Christian stewards. We do not live for this life but for the next. We cannot take our fancy pair of shoes, newly renovated house, or our bank accounts to heaven, but we do take our refined hearts. How do we prepare ourselves for eternal life? We simply start with being a good steward of what God has given us. It is not bad to have those things; however, we cannot let them rule our hearts. Rather, we are called to share what God has entrusted to us. He has given us time every day, countless talents, and numerous treasures. Are we using them for His glory? This week when we witness other people in our lives using the gifts God has given to them, instead of becoming jealous or critical, say a prayer of thanksgiving and take time to reflect on what God has gifted you and how you can offer it to Him for His glory.

The message is clear. God will not be bound, and His work will not be limited to "official channels." He is free to do what He wills where He wills. His Spirit blows freely and cannot be manipulated by our human connivances. Ministry, the work that God has given His people to do, can be carried out by a great variety of people. Ministry, the casting out of demons, the proclamation of God's Word, the giving of a cup of water to the parched and thirsty, is not something bequeathed to only a select few of God's people. Ministry, the mighty works done in the name of Jesus, cannot be controlled or limited by officialdom, church bureaucracies, congregational church councils, or even the pastor. Ministry is God's work. He gives it to whom He chooses, and the recipients of the responsibility may include those who we thought were least qualified.

What does this mean for you? The ministry is not just mine. It is not just something that is controlled by the officials of the church. This ministry is something that belongs to the whole people of God, all baptized Christians—and that means you! God has called you to be His servants in the world. He has given you time, talents, abilities, and money. The work you do on the job, in the community, in your homes, in the voting booth, that is God's work! By seeking to be faithful in your vocations, to do what is right and just and true, you are doing God's work. You are his servants and ministers.

But even more than this, it is through you, outside the walls of this place, that the kingdom of Christ begins to take root in this world. As you give a cup of water to the thirsty, as you clothe the naked and feed the hungry, as you care for the welfare of a neighbor or a co-worker or even a rival, even at the expense of your own interests and well-being, as you forgive the wrongdoer and love your enemy, you begin to embody the sacrificial love of Christ to this world. You become the salt of the world, the seasoning of the earth. You begin to make a difference in this world, and the world begins to sit up and take notice.

Fr. Mark Kalema, Pastor

FAMILY MASS

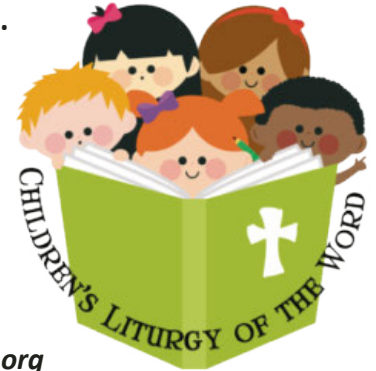

Our Next Family Mass is October 6 @10:30 a.m.

What is Family Mass at All Souls Catholic Parish? It is a monthly celebration in which our Religious Education students have a first-hand opportunity to participate actively by performing the roles of lectors and ushers! Our 4th grade through high school students are also invited to become altar servers and have the chance to serve more frequently once they are trained (call the office FMI).

We sincerely hope that our families will attend Mass and participate from the pews every week, not only on Family Mass Sundays. Your friends are invited, too!

CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD IS NEXT WEEK, OCTOBER 6 @10:30 A.M.

All children present are invited to come to the front of church when the priest calls them forward together with the catechists for a blessing. They are then dismissed to the chapel to hear the Sunday readings and reflect on the Gospel in terms they can understand. The children rejoin the congregation in time for the Profession of Faith.

Want to join us? Children's Liturgy is an easy, low commitment volunteer opportunity for anyone middle school-aged and older. Lessons are provided.
